Re: Survey of Grady White 325 Freedom

Mitch,

I imagine that the survey process can be intimidating for people looking to buy a boat across the country. Thankfully, it was not that way for me and my wife. Prior to selecting you, I spoke with a few other surveyors. I am really happy that we decided to work with you.

What stands out to me the most about the survey process was your knowledge, thoroughness, and ability to educate. I have owned and operated boats for over 15 years and studied up as much as I could on the boat we were looking to buy. Through the survey process, you took extra time to point things out to us and make sure we were fully educated. We learned a lot through the process and really appreciated the knowledge you shared.

Another thing we really appreciated was your follow up after the survey to make sure all of the items you noted as needing attention were repaired prior to our acceptance.

Anyways, it was a real pleasure meeting you. Thanks again for all of your help. I would gladly recommend you to my friends and family.
